The Chancellor/Vice-Chancellor of the University is requested to modify the syllabus and send a reply to the Bar Council of India.

Sir,

The Meeting of the Standing Committees of the Legal Education Committee of the Bar Council of India held on 14th, 15th and 16th June, 2019 and 25th, 26th and 27th July, 2019 considered the inspection report of Faculty of Law, Bhabha University, Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh submitted by the inspection team of the Bar Council of India as well as syllabus submitted by the said University.

The only question involved is, whether the syllabus of the University is in consonance with the syllabus of the Bar Council of India or not. Comparing the both, it is found that syllabus of the University for compulsory law subjects are only 18, though, it should be 20, 2 additional law subjects to be included by the University in the syllabus to be in consonance with. For which the two compulsory papers are Public International Law and Labour and Industrial Law.

So far Honours Degree to be conferred for any law courses, it requires six additional social science papers while at present it has Legal Writing/Legal Language and General English paper with three papers on English and Hindi. The Committee finds incongruity in papers English or Hindi. When General English is already there to have three papers of English it will be repeating the same hence it cannot be stipulated as three additional papers. Hence, optional subject for the University to opt should be apart from aforesaid English paper as General English has to be a compulsory paper. They can have Hindi or any other subject, which should be specific. It further must have at least two more social science subject in order to make composite Honours Degree as per rules.

Hence, modifications should be done in the syllabus by the university and made applicable in all law courses of the University and its constituent and affiliated colleges. It should be expeditiously done, so that courses may not suffer for their infirmities.

There is one further shortcoming in the syllabus. There is no General English paper for three year law, which is also an compulsory subject, though, it has been included in the 5 year law course, but not in three year law course.

This also should be corrected and modified, as per the rule. The Chancellor/Vice-Chancellor of the University is requested to modify the syllabus and send a reply to the Bar Council of India.

In view of the above, as per Section 7(1)(i) of the Advocates Act, 1961, Bhabha University, Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh be granted recognition for the purpose of conferring the degrees of law in three year LL.B. degree course and five year BA LL.B (Hons) integrated course and its Faculty of Law, Bhabha University, Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh be granted fresh approval for imparting three year LL.B. degree course and five year BA LL.B (Hons) integrated course with an intake of one section of 60 students in each course for a period of two years i.e. for the academic years 2019-2020 and 2020-2021.
